

SCHOOL CALENDAR

September 4—Our senior year at last!

September 17—First senior class meeting when Thomas Nowicki, John Saboe, Jayne Eisenberger, and Jane Carfagno were elected officers.

September 19—First Student Council dance—every one enjoyed himself.

September 26, 27, and 28—Dominic Ottaviano, Leonard Gianguelio, and sponsor attended Hi-Y conference at Camp Chesapeake.

October 1—At our first paid assembly Mr. Shurtland, accomplished boxer and writer, proved that muscles and brains go together.

October 2—Senior Class plans Yearbook.

October 11—Our first home game of the 1947 football season went to Gloucester—12 to 0.

October 17—"The Stars Will Remember" and so will everyone who danced to the music of the Rhythm Masters at the Stardust Hop sponsored by the cheerleaders.

October 20—All smiles for the camera when each senior had his picture taken.

November 1—Our rivals from over yonder, Upper Merion, decided to stop being the under dog, and came through with a 13 to 0 victory over our beloved alma mater.

November 8—Rain! No game!

November 13 and 14—The cast of the dramatic club's play "Tomboy" surprised everyone with its acting ability.

November 21—First edition Dragon News.

November 26—(at 3:30) "No more pencils, no more books" at least for four wonderful days of freedom! Why? Thanksgiving Day Vacation has just started of course!

November 27—And so another Norristown-Bridgeport football game goes down in history. A hard clean game found the Eagles on top 7 to 6. And now for that turkey!

December 18—The chorus, dramatic club, and stage hands did a wonderful job of telling the Christmas Story in the annual Christmas program, didn't they?

The Varsity B got their dates a little mixed up but they made out fine on their movie affair anyhow.

December 19—"Here comes Santa Claus" and here I go home for a nice "restful" vacation, not forgetting my December issue of an old friend the Dragon News, of course.

December 25—Here's hoping everyone had a Merry Christmas.

December 26—Snow and lots of it (white Christmas was a little late this year.)

January 1—Started the New Year with good resolutions. Hope to keep every one.

January 5—Back to school after sixteen glorious days of leisure.

January 8—Senior Class meeting. Discussions on date and name of minstrel.

January 13—Girls Basketball season opens with close game in Conshy's favor 20-16.

Heart breaker—Norco boys defeat us 39-38.
